CPD PROGRAMME 2008 | 2009

PSYCHOANALYTIC SUPERVISION FOR COUNSELLORS WORKING IN EDUCATIONAL SETTINGS

Fee £315

This is an opportunity for counsellors and other education professionals working in a counselling capacity in schools and further education, to join a small supervision group in order to develop psychoanalytic thinking and apply it to their work.

These supervision groups are designed to give participants a chance to present work in a safe and confidential setting and to explore their work from a psychoanalytic perspective.

There will be opportunities to share ideas and theoretical concepts with other like minded professionals and to reflect on the impact of the work on one's own professional development.

AIMS

- 1) To provide an opportunity for participants to present their own work
- 2) To learn from other participants' work
- 3) To increase knowledge of psychoanalytic thinking applied to counselling work with children and young people in education settings
- 4) To provide a space for critical reflection and improve clinical practice

IS THIS THE RIGHT COURSE FOR YOU?

This supervision group will be open to all counsellors and other education professionals working in a counselling capacity in schools and further education.

Knowledge of psychoanalytic concepts will be expected. This could be as a component of professional training or through previous supervision in this model of work or through attending any CPD event using this model of thinking.
